Purpose:

To ensure uniformity in conducting electronic search warrants and direct the warrants to the proper investigating authority.

Policy:

Obtain supervisory review and approval of electronic search warrants and court orders before contacting the court. A supervisor from the Intelligence Unit will be the primary approving supervisor. In the event an Intelligence Unit supervisor is unavailable, a supervisor from the Major Offender Unit (MOU) will approve the search warrant. Assistance in drafting the electronic search warrant or court order should come from the City Prosecutor's office.

All electronic search warrants and court orders are signed by a judge from the Court of Common Pleas, Criminal Division, after review by the City Prosecutor.

All forensic examinations of stored electronic data (computers, pagers, cell phones, personal data assistants, etc.) are conducted by Regional Electronic Computer Investigation Section (RECI).

Information:

There is a difference between an electronic search warrant and a court order. A computer, usually the hard drive, is actually searched to obtain information on its contents. Much like searching a house for evidence, the computer is the property of another, but it may contain evidence of a crime. To search the property of another requires the consent of the owner or a search warrant. Due to wording in the laws concerning searches of electronic media, the Criminal Division of the Commons Pleas Court is used as the issuing authority for the search warrant. A municipal court warrant may allow the seizure of the computer, but it takes a Common Pleas warrant to search the computer.

All that is required to obtain subscriber information from an Internet Service Provider (ISP) is a court order. There is no search involved and the ISP owns the subscriber information. It is the same as obtaining a telephone number with a court order.

Should a subscriber store e-mail on the ISP's server or have a file share stored on an ISP's server, a search warrant would be needed, as that information is the property of the subscriber, not the ISP.

Procedure:

A. Electronic Search Warrants and Court Orders

1. The search warrant or court order will be approved by a supervisor from Intelligence Unit or MOU.
2. The search warrant or court order will be reviewed by the City Prosecutor's office.
3. The search warrant or court order will be signed by a judge from the Court of Common Pleas, Criminal Division.
4. All item(s) seized are submitted to RECI along with the following:
  - a. A case summary or a RECI evidence submission sheet.
    - 1) RECI evidence submission sheets can be obtained by contacting RECI.

- b. A copy of the search authority (search warrant or RECI consent form).
  - 1) Due to the complex nature of computer searches, only RECI Consent to Search forms will be used. Copies can be obtained through the RECI office.
  - 2) When using a consent to search form, it is imperative that officers obtain consent from all parties who have an expectation of privacy. Access to all parts of the electronic device may require additional paperwork. RECI officers can give further advice in this area.
  - 3) If the electronic device is from a business, the consent to search form must also be signed by the supervisor of the business, and include a copy of the business' user agreement.
    - a) The supervisor must have direct authority over the electronic device in order to give consent. RECI officers can give further advice in this area.

B. Electronic Court Orders

- 1. To obtain a court order, personnel will contact the Intelligence Unit. Only certified Intelligence Unit officers can write these court orders.
- 2. All telephone court orders require the following information on the affidavit:
  - a. Requesting officers need to provide their name, rank, unit of assignment, working hours, telephone and fax numbers. Officers must include the criminal charge, with the ORC section number for the investigation, and a brief statement of probable cause.
  - b. The probable cause statement must include how the telephone number is involved in the criminal activity and how the requested information will assist law enforcement in the criminal investigation.
- 3. Court orders can be obtained for:
  - a. Subscriber information

- 1) This gives the name, address, and credit card information on the person(s) who is/are responsible for the payment of the Internet service. This information comes from the ISP, such as America On Line, Roadrunner, Zoomtown, etc.
- b. Internet provider address information
- 1) This information can be obtained for certain types of investigations. For example, if an officer needs assistance in identifying a person using a certain moniker in a chat room or on a blog posting.
- c. Cellular telephone information
- 1) Officers requiring information on phone numbers received and called should refer to Procedure 12.809, Court Orders for Telephone Records.

Definitions:

Property - any material object of value, however slight, tangible or intangible to which an owner has a legal right.

- Property marked as “found” or “personal” is returnable to anyone with proof of ownership. No disposition order will be sent to the responsible officer and the property could be disposed of in 90 days if not claimed.
- Property marked as “court” is any property held as evidence or property that has the potential to be evidence. A disposition order will be sent to the responsible officer to determine the disposition.

Eliminate questionable confiscation and reduce complaints of illegal search and seizure.

Establish department procedure regarding firearms coming into police possession.

Policy:

Police personnel will exert every effort to detect, arrest, and prosecute violators. Property used in an unlawful manner will be seized and held as evidence in connection with the arrest.

Police personnel will not confiscate lawfully possessed property from another person. An exception will be made if, in the judgment of a supervisor, the confiscation is deemed necessary for the safety or welfare of the public or individuals involved. Items falling into this category are guns, knives, other dangerous weapons, explosives, poisons, etc.

All recovered firearms, ammunition, bullets and casings will be treated as evidence and the history of how they came to be recovered will be investigated.

Information:

Police Department personnel are responsible for the inventory and processing of all property that comes into their custody before terminating their tour of duty. Inventory of property is necessary through the entire transaction process unless the property is in a Police Department evidence envelope, bag, or box and is properly sealed with evidence tape.

Personnel at each district are trained to access the Electronic Trace Submission System database of firearms coming into police custody maintained by the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives. During normal working hours, Special Investigations Squad (SIS) personnel are available, as needed, to access the database. Dear Chief Streicher,

On November 1, I was involved in an automobile accident on Auburn Avenue in Mount Auburn. Officer Reginald Lane from District 4 came to the scene very promptly. He was very professional and courteous in his handling of the case. He told me that he would call me and leave information about the Accident Report number and where to go in case I wanted to procure a copy. He did exactly what he said he would do and at the promised time.

In my opinion, Officer Lane is a fine police officer and a credit to your division.

Sincerely,

Joseph L. Giesey, Jr.

Dear Chief Streiber

Thank you for supporting the idea of "ride alongs" for those of us in Leadership Cincinnati. Quite an eye-opening experience in many ways. My officer was James Adams (District 3), and I couldn't have asked for a better partner for the night: a hero, duty-bound, answered all my questions, great companion and a compassionate officer. I am proud to serve (as you can see from above), and I understand duty... and mission... and sacrifice. I feel comforted

Knowing you and your officers are doing your best to make our community safe and wholesome. I look forward to meeting you on "Justice Day".

Sincerely,
Randy Randolph
